Midwest Injury Prevention Alliance

About

The Midwest Injury Prevention Alliance (MIPA) is an organization of injury professionals from the states in the Federal Health and Human Services Region V (Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin) that work collaboratively to reduce unintentional and intentional injury-related death and disability.

Mission

The mission of MIPA is to facilitate development of a coordinated approach for unintentional and intentional injury prevention and control in the region. MIPA promotes the development and sharing of injury prevention planning, evaluation, education and policy strategies, training, research and other initiatives among members of the MIPA network.

Goal

The goal of MIPA is to reduce unintentional and intentional injuries by fostering collaboration and communication among the MIPA network members.

Agenda Details: Thursday, December 1, 2016

Welcome and opening remarks | 1:00 - 1:15 p.m. | Woodfield

Gary Smith, MD, DrPH, Center Director, Center for Injury Research and Policy, Research Institute at Nationwide Children's Hospital

Keynote | 1:15 – 2:30 p.m. | Woodfield

Making Violence Prevention Urgent

James A. Mercy, Director of the Division of Violence Prevention (DVP), CDC
National Center for Injury Prevention and Control

This presentation will discuss the activities and future directions of the Division of Violence Prevention in the National Center for Injury Prevention and Control at the CDC with an emphasis on violence to children. The importance of health equity in violence prevention will be described.

Breakout sessions, Block 1 | 2:45 – 4:00 p.m.

Session 1 | Policy | Executive Learning Center 1

Paul Bonta, MA, Director of Government Affairs, Safe State Alliance

Attendees will hear examples of how NVDRS data is being used by NVDRS states and how the program enhances collaboration with stakeholder organizations. Attendees will receive the tools necessary to engage in NVDRS advocacy efforts and will gain an understanding of the role they can play in ensuring the program's continued growth and success.

Session 2 | Integrating a Lifesaving Elixir into US Practices | Executive Learning Center 2

Dan Bigg, Executive Director, Chicago Recovery Alliance

Lisa Bullard-Cawthorne, MS, MPH, Coordinator, Opioid Harm Prevention Program, Wisconsin Department of Health Services

Jennifer Tranmer, MA, Communications Specialist, Opioid Harm Prevention Program, Wisconsin Department of Health Services

This presentation will discuss the process, challenges, successes and next steps of getting the Standing Order for naloxone in Wisconsin. In addition, this presentation will discuss experiences and current practices of creating programming for take-home naloxone over the last 20 years in Chicago.

Session 3 | Interdisciplinary Approach to Crash Prevention: Biomechanics and the CIREN Program | Board Room 204

Frank A Pintar, PhD, Medical College of Wisconsin

Preventing vehicle crashes includes the understanding of mechanisms of injury and the variables associated with the collision dynamics. The CIREN program is an in-depth case-by-case analysis of vehicle crashes with severely injured occupants. This presentation will look at these mechanisms and the CIREN program and discuss how interdisciplinary efforts with physicians and engineers have resulted in improved occupant safety.

Session 4 | Engaging Communities in Reducing Gun Violence | Board Room 205

Kayla Hicks, Director of African American and Community Outreach, Educational Fund to Stop Gun Violence

Josh Horwitz, Executive Director, Educational Fund to Stop Gun Violence

This workshop will focus on how advocates in Virginia have built a powerful and diverse gun violence prevention movement by melding community organizing with policy development. The presenters will discuss how advocacy for evidence-based gun violence prevention policies is linked with a broader set of community concerns and how new tools are facilitating this process. These tools include a newly developed workshop called Education to Action as well as a recently published report entitled Engaging Communities in Reducing Gun Violence: A Roadmap for Gun Violence Prevention.

Keynote | 4:15 – 5:30 p.m. | Woodfield

Achieving Health and Safety for All: A Critical Conversation Exploring the Root Causes of Violence

Mighty Fine, MPH, CHES, Deputy Director, Center for Professional Development, Public Health Systems & Partnerships, American Public Health Association

Violence is an epidemic that severely impacts the health of individuals and communities. By using a public health approach we know that we can prevent violence by addressing the social factors that contribute to its spread. We must also be intentional in dismantling the historical structures and institutions that exacerbate violence. This presentation will highlight the need to address these inequities in order to improve the health and safety of the nation.

Reception and poster session | 5:30 – 7:00 p.m. | Garden Terrace

Agenda Details: Friday, December 2, 2016

Breakfast and committee meetings | 7:30 - 8:30 a.m. | Woodfield

Learn how to get more involved in MIPA. Join fellow MIPA members for dialogue on important injury topics.

Breakout sessions, Block 2 | 8:45 – 10:15 a.m.

Session 1 | #SocialMedia@PublicHealth: Learning When to “Like it”, “Post it”, or “Pin it” to Meet Your Public Health Goals and Engage Your Partners | Executive Learning Center 1

Cynthia Anderson, MPH, CHES, Program Coordinator, Center for Injury Research and Policy, Research Institute at Nationwide Children's Hospital

Laura Friedenber, MA, Research Writer, Center for Injury Research and Policy, Research Institute at Nationwide Children's Hospital

Tracy Mehan, MA, Manager of Translational Research, Center for Injury Research and Policy, Research Institute at Nationwide Children's Hospital

Gary A. Smith, MD, DrPH, Center Director, Center for Injury Research and Policy, Research Institute at Nationwide Children's Hospital

This session will help you decide what social media channel to use to meet your public health goals as well as give some tips on how to be successful. Case studies of how social media is being used to engage partners will be highlighted.

Session 2 | Engaging and Retaining Practice for a Successful Fall Prevention Program | Executive Learning Center 2

Shannon Myers, Stepping On Faculty Trainer and Community Research Specialist, Wisconsin Institute for Healthy Aging

Finding it difficult getting your programs off the ground or keeping them successful? During this session you will learn best practices to widen your reach and engage new participants and also learn ways to keep programs high functioning in your communities. Come prepared to discuss some of your challenges and successes when it comes to engaging and retaining your community programs.

Session 3 | Infant Safe Sleep | Board Room 204

Nichole L. Hodges, PhD, MPH, Research Scientist, Center for Injury Research and Policy, Research Institute at Nationwide Children's Hospital

Healthcare professionals can influence their patients' infant safe sleep choices; however, little is known about the practices of prenatal and postnatal healthcare providers related to this topic. The purpose of this study was to assess the infant safe sleep knowledge, attitudes, and behaviors of lactation consultants, obstetric physicians, and certified nurse midwives in Ohio. In addition this study looked to identify barriers and enabling/reinforcing factors associated with providing infant safe sleep education in the obstetric environment. This session will discuss the information discovered found through this study.

Amanda Bagin, Project Coordinator, Children's Health Alliance of Wisconsin

Each year more than 55 Wisconsin infants die suddenly and expectedly. Of these deaths, at least 80 percent had at least one sleep-related risk factor. To partly address the complicated issue of safe infant sleep, Children's Health Alliance of Wisconsin partnered with Children's Hospital of Wisconsin to develop and implement a baby box program in home visiting. This session will focus on how the program was developed, trainings provided and early outcomes.

Breakout sessions, Block 3 | 10:30 – 11:45 a.m.

Session 1 | Community Engaged Research: Principles and Practices, a Perspective from the Field | Executive Learning Center 1

Rebecca Levin, MPH, Director, Strengthening Chicago's Youth and Strategic Director, Injury Prevention and Research Center; Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago

Maryann Mason, PhD, Assistant Research Professor, Northwestern University, Feinberg School of Medicine, Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital's Smith Child Health Research Center

Jackie Samuel, PhD, Senior Program Director, Claretian Associates

This presentation will use examples from the field to outline a range of community-engaged research approaches, share key guiding principles and outline resources for future reference. The Community-Academic Collaboration to Prevent Violence in Chicago (CACPVC) is one specific project that will be discussed. This project enhances connections between academic, philanthropic, and community partners to build capacity to develop, implement, and evaluate strategies to reduce health disparities related to violence in Chicago.

Session 2 | Furniture Tip-Overs | Executive Learning Center 2

Nancy A. Cowles, Executive Director, Kids In Danger

Kim Dulic, U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission

Every two weeks a child dies when a piece of furniture, television or appliance tips over. This session will allow attendees to learn about this hidden hazard from new research and discuss ways to reduce the risk through design, standards and consumer education.

Session 3 | Data Driven Advocacy | Board Room 204

Nicole Fumo, MPH, Program Manager, Injury Research Center, Medical College of Wisconsin

E. Brooke Lerner, PhD, Professor, Department of Emergency Medicine and Pediatrics, Medical College of Wisconsin

This presentation will outline a multi-faceted approach to addressing the opioid epidemic in Milwaukee using data driven methods, cross-sector collaboration, and a conceptual framework used in prevention and intervention planning.

Mallory O'Brien, PhD, MS, Assistant Professor, Institute for Health and Society, Medical College of Wisconsin

This presentation will focus on The Milwaukee Homicide Review Commission (MHRC). The Milwaukee Homicide Review Commission (MHRC) strives to reduce homicides and non-fatal shootings through a multi-level, multi-disciplinary and multi-agency homicide review process. The MHRC is comprised of law enforcement professionals, criminal justice professionals and community service providers who meet regularly to exchange information regarding the city's homicides and other violent crimes to identify methods of prevention from both public health and criminal justice perspectives.

Session 4 | National Violent Death Reporting System | Board Room 205

Brittany Grogan, MPH, Wisconsin Violent Death Reporting System Coordinator

Rachel Kenny, MPH, Epidemiologist, Indiana Violent Death Reporting System

Antigone Kouvelis, Project Manager, Illinois Violent Death Reporting System

Maryann Mason, PhD, Principal Investigator, Illinois Violent Death Reporting System

Patricia K. Smith, MS, PI/Program Director, Michigan Violent Death Reporting System

Nate Wright, MPH, SAMHSA/CSTE Epidemiology Fellow, Minnesota Department of Health

State-level data from the National Violent Death Reporting System can provide detailed information on incidents of violent death (homicide, suicide, deaths of undetermined manner, accidental firearm-related deaths) including information that can identify health disparities and inform work being done on them. In this session, representatives from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan will talk about what they are seeing in their NVDRS data that can assist with efforts around these important public health issues.

Lunch and Keynote | 12:00 – 1:45 p.m. | Woodfield

Trauma Informed Care: A New Dimension of Injury Prevention

Anita Mandley, MS, LCPC, Center for Contextual Change

This keynote presentation will focus on how trauma and cultural and social inequities are vulnerabilities that can increase the possibility of injuries. Learning about the legacy of trauma, and the impact of invalidation and microaggressions on marginalized groups, can create the context for corrective experiences. In addition it can provide new possibilities for positive personal and systemic changes that decrease vulnerability and increase resiliency.
