The MIPA Board of Directors Welcomes You!

The Midwest Injury Prevention Alliance (MIPA) Board of Directors would like to welcome you to the second annual MIPA Summit. We thank you for joining us, and we are excited to watch MIPA grow and thrive.

Now, more than ever, developing multi-disciplinary collaborations at the regional level is critical to ensure continued successes in injury and violence prevention. Therefore, the theme of this year's Summit is "Crossing State Lines to Build a Safer Future." We have invited key representatives from each member state to share ideas and help us develop plans for collaboration as part of this year's Summit program. The goals for this Summit are to enhance regional injury and violence prevention collaboration throughout Region 5, build on MIPA's current momentum and successes, and focus on challenges and activities for the future.

Together with the Summit Planning Committee, we have developed an exciting agenda, featuring both national and local speakers and presentations, as well as topic-focused break-out sessions. While the presentation topics primarily concentrate on the two MIPA committee areas of focus, older adult falls and prescription drug abuse, the overlying themes are important and will be of interest to all who are working in injury and violence prevention. There will also be ample opportunity to network, reconnect with colleagues, and build new relationships. We encourage you to actively participate in each session and share your own experiences and thoughts on the topics.

Our hope is that you will leave this Summit motivated, energized, and full of new ideas for your own work in injury and violence prevention and for the future of MIPA.

Enjoy the Summit,

Midwest Injury Prevention Alliance

About MIPA

The Midwest Injury Prevention Alliance (MIPA) is an organization of injury professionals from states in Federal Health and Human Services Region V (Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, and Wisconsin) that works collaboratively to reduce unintentional and intentional injury-related death and disability.

Mission

The mission of MIPA is to facilitate development of a coordinated approach for unintentional and intentional injury prevention and control in the region. MIPA promotes the development and sharing of injury prevention planning, evaluation, education and policy strategies, training, research, and other initiatives among members of the MIPA network.

Goal

The goal of MIPA is to reduce unintentional and intentional injuries by fostering collaboration and communication among the MIPA network members.

Objectives

The objectives of MIPA are:

1. To support each member state's initiatives to establish and implement a statewide injury control plan that works toward achieving the Healthy People 2020 objectives;
2. To share expertise and information to facilitate a better understanding of research and practices of injury control;
3. To facilitate the development of collaborative injury projects and programs throughout the region, including but not limited to the sharing of injury data.

Summit Planning Committee

The MIPA Board of Directors would like to thank the 2012 Summit Planning Committee, for all of their hard work and dedication to making this Summit a success:

Presenters

(Bonita) Lynn Beattie, PT, MPT, MHA

Lynn Beattie, Vice President for Injury Prevention, National Council on Aging (NCOA) is working on many national projects to reduce falls and fall-related injuries in older adults. Most notably, she is leading the National Falls Free© Initiative, including a national coalition, and the growing 40 member State Coalitions on Fall Prevention Workgroup. Achievements include passage of federal legislation, increases in federal investment in falls prevention and annual Senate proclamations of Fall Prevention Awareness Day. Lynn also serves on numerous advisory panels addressing older adult issues including healthy aging, arthritis, and physical activity.

Lynn retired from the Army Medical Department as the Chief of Physical Therapy Section and joined NCOA in 1999. She has her undergraduate degree in health and physical education and masters' degrees from Baylor University in physical therapy (1972) and in health care administration (1979). In 1998, she completed the master's level gerontology certificate program at the University of Maryland.

B. Christine Beeghly, MPH

Christy Beeghly, MPH, serves as Director of the Violence and Injury Prevention Program (VIPP) at the Ohio Department of Health. In this role, she manages statewide injury prevention programs including a local grant program, a child passenger safety program, and injury surveillance programs examining fatal occupational injuries, violent death and the overall burden of injury in Ohio. Ms. Beeghly was responsible for the development of the Ohio Injury Prevention Partnership, a multi-disciplinary statewide coalition dedicated to addressing Ohio's data-driven injury priority areas, including falls among older adults, prescription drug overdose and child injury.

Ms. Beeghly has been active in the field of public health with an emphasis on injury prevention for over a decade. Prior to her current position, she served as the Program Manager at the Center for Injury Research and Policy at Nationwide Children's Hospital. Preceding this, she served as the state of Ohio EMS for Children Coordinator and the Ohio SAFE KIDS Coalition Coordinator for six years. Throughout these roles, she has produced numerous reports on the status of injury in Ohio and has designed and administered related injury prevention initiatives.

For the past three years, she has researched the dramatic, rising trend in prescription drug overdose in Ohio and the response to the problem in other states. She has presented on this topic to multi-disciplinary audiences across the State. In 2009, she helped initiate a state coalition addressing the issue of prescription drug misuse/abuse/overdose. She has also been providing support for state-level overdose prevention initiatives.

Ms. Beeghly received a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Emory University in Atlanta and a Master of Public Health from the University of Michigan, School of Public Health.

Carla J. Chen, JD

Carla Chen serves as an ORISE fellow with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) Public Health Law Program (PHLP) in Atlanta, Georgia. PHLP collaborates internally with public health professionals across multiple CDC centers and offices as programs consider the role of law in advancing public health goals. Externally, PHLP provides technical assistance to public health policy makers, practitioners, and researchers on the state, tribal, local, and territorial level. Ms. Chen is currently leading several legal research projects including work with the CDC's National Center for Injury Prevention and Control and the CDC's National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion.

Ms. Chen earned her Juris Doctorate from Georgia State University in 2010 where she was a member of the Law Review. During law school, she also interned at the CDC's Office of the General Counsel, providing assistance to attorneys in public health law and employment law matters. Prior to attending law school, Ms. Chen worked as a law clerk in private practice and also studied Mandarin Chinese at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York and Fudan University in Shanghai, China. She earned her undergraduate degree in Math-Economics from Agnes Scott College in Atlanta, Georgia in 2003.

Joyce Dantzler, MS, MCHES

Joyce Dantzler, M.S., MCHES is the Deputy Director of the Center for Health Promotion at the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. Ms. Dantzler has over 25 years of professional practice in public health, having worked in a variety of settings. In her current capacity as Deputy Director, she is responsible for providing leadership, direction and overall management to a number of statewide health education and health promotion initiatives in both intentional and unintentional injury prevention including: rape and sexual assault prevention and victim services reimbursement, Kids in Safety Seats, the Maryland Violent Death Reporting System, and Core injury, where she serves as the Principal Investigator for the Regional Network Leader Grant funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Ms. Dantzler is skilled in program planning, evaluation and policy development. She has worked on legislation designed to improve child passenger safety, collaborated with other state and local agencies on training and education programs for professionals, and networked with state and national organizations that address issues of violence against women. Ms. Dantzler has been a speaker at state and national conferences and is an author or co-author on several publications.

She received her Bachelor of Science in Health Sciences from the University of Maryland, a Master of Science in Public Health Education and Administration from Towson State University, and is a graduate of the National Public Health Education Leadership Institute at St. Louis University.

Denise Franer, RN

Denise Franer, RN is the Program Coordinator for the Clermont County General Health District Senior Safety Program. She has worked in injury prevention for three and a half years.

Denise is trained in Matter of Balance and the Healthy-U Chronic Disease Self Management Program. Her nursing career has spanned over 36 years and has included work in pediatrics, Mission services, chaplaincy, community health, geriatrics and public health. Her community health experience includes providing nursing care to low income families in Peru and Guatemala. She was a Cincinnati Business Courier Health Care Heroes finalist in 1999 and is currently the Chair Elect for the Ohio Injury Prevention Partnership.

Howard Kress, PhD

Dr. Howard Kress has over 15 years of experience in conducting social science research in the United States, Ecuador and Bangladesh, along with 6 years of program evaluation experience with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other federal agencies. He is skilled in applying social science methods to program evaluation to solve public health issues. His evaluation approach is recognized as resourceful and flexible owing to his commitment to developing program-specific methodologies and techniques. As a program evaluator, he searches for, synthesizes and interprets information relevant to public health issues including injury prevention and control, public health disaster preparedness, and family planning. He currently serves as a Behavioral Scientist with the CDC in the National Center for Injury Prevention and Control (NCIPC), where he conducts program evaluation and research regarding alcohol as a risk factor in injury and violence.

Prior to his current position with CDC, Dr. Kress received funding from the National Science Foundation to evaluate the effectiveness of family planning programs in Ecuador and Bangladesh. He has presented evaluation results at multiple national meetings, including the Society for Anthropological Sciences, American Anthropological Association, American Evaluation Association, and Human Behavior Ecology Society, and internationally with to the International Center for Diarrheal Disease Research, Bangladesh.

Jack Mills, MPA, MSW

Jack Mills serves as the CQI Specialist at the Lake County Health Department in Waukegan, Illinois, where he is responsible for developing and implementing quality improvement and performance measurement processes for the Population Health Services (PHS) Division. In this role, Mr. Mills participates and serves in leadership roles in several community health improvement organizations, including The American Cancer Society, The Senior Services Coalition, The Pioneer Long Term Care initiative, and IPLAN implementation committees. Additionally, he serves as the Chair of an inter-agency Lake County Falls Prevention Work Group. He also leads community health improvement activities to achieve identified public health goals of reducing morbidity and mortality. He excels at motivating and directing work teams in developing and implementing creative, customer-focused solutions.

Mr. Mills has over thirty years of experience in health care planning, marketing, and quality improvement. Mr. Mills has successfully developed, organized, and presented documentation necessary to obtain program licensing or certification, Certificates of Need, and NCQA, and URAC Accreditation.

Mr. Mills received a Bachelor of Arts in Sociology from the University of Minnesota and a Master of Social Work and Master of Public Administration from the University of Wisconsin.

Cheryl Wittke, MPA

Cheryl Wittke is Executive Director of Safe Communities and has been with the organization since its inception in 1999. Under her leadership, the organization has grown to include nearly 300 participating organizations, and became the sixth organization in the United States to be welcomed into the International Network of Safe Communities by the World Health Organization Collaborating Centre on Safety Promotion. Prior to joining Safe Communities, Cheryl was a self-employed consultant whose projects included coordinating national and local neighborhood conferences, and writing curricula and training for the National Association of Service and Conservation Corps.

Cheryl has a Masters degree in Public Administration with a concentration in Community Development from University of Wisconsin's LaFollette Institute of Public Affairs. She also has previous experience as a high school social studies teacher and legislative aide.
